A Word from the Selectmen

As a Taxpayer you are a shareholder in the Town of Cornish. This is a report on the operation of your Town for the past year. You may find some changes, as we have tried to give you a clearer and more understandable picture of your Town government. In response to the request of many voters and in answer to a promise given to them at the last Town Meeting, the Selectmen have segregated and compiled the various types of transactions in such a manner that information will be readily available with the least possible effort. This has been done with reference to the best town reports in the State, and with the approval of a committee well versed in such matters. We hope it is what you want.

At this point we would like to remind you that the Taxpayer makes his own tax bill by the money he votes to spend at town meeting. Therefore, it is very important that YOU voice your opinion on every article put before you. Too many people say too little at Town Meeting.

We have tried to be as helpful and cooperative with both the voters and the various Town Departments as our limited time and funds permit.

The Highway Department has been supplied with a small power shovel, and with a White Half-track, both of which are proving themselves very useful pieces of highway equipment.

At the suggestion of the Budget Committee we have included a $500.00 item to be used for the replacement of a bridge this year, and we hope this plan will be continued. At the present time the need seems greatest on the Center Road.

After much delay we have secured the services of a competent carpenter to repair the Town House floor.

In closing, we wish to express our appreciation for the friendly cooperation of the various departments.

—The Selectmen

The Town Warrant

I am interested in and encouraging better kept cemeteries, but the difficulties involved are readily seen by any one interested visiting our cemeteries with broken and fallen stones, sunken graves in our old cemeteries.

The Town raised $600.00 last year. We have twelve cemeteries, four of which no money is spent on, that leaves an average of $75.00 each for the remaining eight cemeteries. After raking leaves and mowing hay once, there is little or no money left for improvements.

The satisfaction of having a well kept cemetery is a living memorial to the departed heroes, founders, prominent and last but not least, just John Doe of our town.

Respectfully,

GEORGE S. GEER, Sexton

HIGHWAY AGENTS REPORT

It is hard to stretch road funds to keep pace with the demand of increased traffic.

I started out with a long range policy of building the roads back to where they used to be originally, and have succeeded in many, many instances by hard work and a desire for better and wider roads. I sincerely believe the roads in general are the best in a good many years. I know that some will disagree, but they will be those who did not know the old roads. I do not say that there is no mud because there is too much of it. We do not have the means of getting gravel fast enough on the roads to complete the whole cycle before it is time to start over again.

One fact that we dislike to face is the large trucks heavily loaded, passing over our roads in the spring breakup which causes great damage when the roads are soft.

There are approximately five miles of unimproved roads in town that something should be done to make them safe to travel on. We cannot lose sight that one year of too stringent restrictions may cost us several times the original cost. Another problem that is very depressing, is that we have to cut about 90 per cent of the brush on the roadside that the farmers used to hay.

The town raised $1,200.00 last year to tar the Lang road as far as possible. There was one mile tarred and there is approximately one-half of a mile left to tar. I hope that the voters will see that this road is finished.

In regards to Class V roads: I honestly think that the town should return to its original way of building roads, as we cannot afford the wasteful expenditure of money as practiced by the State last year. A mile and three-tenths was built, whereas the previous years there was three times as many miles at approximately the same cost.

My policy on bridges is to build bridges and culverts to last a long time. This can be done only by doing away with as many planked ones as possible, as continued replanking costs are very high. I have replaced eight bridges in town, four are cement, two cement tile, one steel tile and one steel arch.

I have had bridges surveyed on two roads and the blueprints made at no cost to the town. I hope that the voters of the town will see to it that there is money raised or a fund started to improve these bridges.

My policy has been very simple. I have tried to manage the highway department for you as I would like you to run it for me if you were in my place. I am constantly trying to improve the roads so that Cornish will be a good place to live in, for people to invest their money in, so that it may be progressive. I like a little old-fashioned common sense in business. I may be too old-fashioned, maybe my opinion doesn't matter or does it?

Report of Civil Defense Director

The New Hampshire Civil Defense Act became effective July 28, 1949, on which date it was approved by the Governor.

Civil Defense, as defined in the statute, means the preservation of the lives and property of the people of the State in time of disaster resulting from enemy action OR FROM NATURAL CAUSES, such as fire, flood, hurricane, etc. The basic purpose of Civil Defense is to minimize and repair injury and damage resulting from any of these causes.

While the State has primary responsibility for the safety of its own people and their property, and of the communities in which they live and work, the basic operating responsibility for civil defense is in the individual and his local government. The community's civil defense organization works to meet its own crisis, receiving outside help if its facilities are inadequate, or contributing support to neighboring communities under organized State direction.

The mobilization, organization, and direction of the civilian population, and the necessary supporting agencies in time of disaster is wholly a local function. Under the statute, the State has given local communities the necessary authority to organize for civil defense and to appropriate funds for that purpose.

In accordance with this authority your Selectmen, in September 1950, appointed a local civil defense director who immediately proceeded to establish an organization for the civil defense of Cornish. The Group Leaders of this organization are listed below.

Your C.D.O. is a working group, endeavoring to the best of its ability and facilities to conform to and carry out the purposes of the directives issued by the State Director, Admiral Miles R. Browning. Obviously much organizational and other work remains to be done on all three levels, national, state and local, but sincere thought, time, and considerable talent are being devoted, on all three levels, to bring about adequate and effective civil defense.

Nevertheless, the best plans and intentions, however well conceived, will be most ineffective unless authorities and key civil defense personnel in particular and every man, woman and child in the community in general, realize that:

(a) Intelligent and energetic preparation to meet emergencies always has and always will save lives and property which would otherwise be lost;

(b) If, due to inertia, laziness or a mistaken feeling of security, their preparation is not the very best possible with the means at hand, and attack or other disaster strikes, the responsibility for a large part of the suffering and loss that will follow will rest directly upon them and them alone.

We appreciate the interest and cooperation received so far from our fellow townspeople and ask for their continued support in these efforts for our mutual benefit.

Local Civil Defense Director for Cornish

REPORT OF THE LIBRARY TRUSTEES

To the citizens of Cornish:

Your trustees like everyone else have been troubled by the inflation. However, our greatest difficulty has been to obtain wood for fuel. Orders were placed with several persons, but deliveries were uncertain. Unless some citizen can assure us wood will be obtainable, we must ask for additional funds another year to purchase a different type of heating unit.

We report the following activities. The annual exhibit of school work was held in May. Your librarian had a display of children's books and adult non-fiction at the Cornish Fair. The Flat school children visited the library in September. An appropriate display of children's books were arranged for Book Week.

The librarian and the community have missed the good fiction that was formerly supplied by the Bookmobile and that our funds cannot supply.

The librarian's records provide the following statistics:

Total number of visitors	1228
Books loaned at library	1639
Books loaned to South Cornish	63
Books loaned to schools	535
Magazines loaned	982
Books borrowed from State Library	15
Books borrowed from Bookmobile	189
The City school borrowed the greatest number of books this year	156

We sincerely thank the following for gifts of books and magazines: Mrs. Weld, Mrs. Rawson, Mrs. Bugbee, Miss Williams, Miss Brown, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Barrett, Mr. Southwick, and Mr. Pulsipher.

Respectfully submitted,

ESTHER K. BUGBEE,
ABBIE W. WHITE,
SELMA U. LOVEJOY.

REPORT OF SUPT. OF SCHOOLS

Again we are at the threshold of international emergency. The price of freedom is already mounting. In terms of dollars and standards of living, it is going to be expensive beyond imagination. The cost in blood and human sacrifice may be immeasurable. What war will do to our American ideals, we cannot tell at this point.

It will profit us nothing to win again, and lose the character of our citizenship. In foreign lands, a far greater proportion of total resources are expended to "educate" youth, to feed his mind with that which will make him a willing tool of the powers that subjugate all personal attributes to the "good of the State." Many foreign governments have recognized more clearly that we, how the forces of mass "education" can be utilized to promote whatever end is sought by those in power.

In America, we have learned the need of having weapons of defense at our immediate disposal. Yet we appreciate that truth is more powerful than the sword. Our great public education system has grown in the last half century to amazing proportions. Most of us give at least "lip service" to the realization of its importance and its possibilities. Man cannot govern himself better unless he knows how. The very existence of self-government depends upon the increasing wisdom of the people. Even the winning of a war is determined in the classroom, the shop, and the laboratory, as well as on the battlefield.

We must not lose a generation—or a civilization—by relaxing our efforts in public education while fighting to survive.

As there is little major industry in the small towns of Union 5, the real estate tax places an unequal burden on many of them in their attempts to provide good schools. When the General Court of 1949 launched its austerity program to balance the state budget without new state taxes, this Union of eight towns lost over half of its state aid. It is not possible to run schools, improve "horse and buggy" buildings, educate increasing populations, and hire good teachers, with a dollar worth half as much or less, and still keep the total appropriations down. Just as bread and meat and clothing cost more, so must schools. We take pride in telling that, where towns voted the amounts recommended by the school officials last March, budgets will probably balance in spite of unprecedented increases.

New budgets must be larger. It is just as unlikely that we can cut school expenditures, and get more with our smaller dollar, as it is to demand from the grocer as many groceries for the same amount as we did a year ago. The average school costs in this Union—one of difficult geography and thinly settled—are below the average for New Hampshire.

There will probably be a balance in current appropriations of $1800, to be applied to next year—more than equal to the temporary loss of state aid. This saving is due to savings in tuition. Several pupils left high school, or did not start as was anticipated. The proposed budget for current expenses is up about $1800. Major factors in the increase are transportation costs, teachers' salaries, and the district's share of retirement.

We have probably estimated enough in the transportation appropriation to continue and improve our shuttle system between schools. Such a system is necessary to reduce the number of grades in our six schools, and to adjust the enrollments where one area has more pupils than another. A thorough study of our transportation will show, I think, that the district should work towards owning a bus for each side of the town. These buses could carry our high school pupils into Claremont and Windsor with or without a small charge to the parents. It still might be necessary to employ one or two small vehicles for feeder routes. We would then be ready for the day when our new consolidated school is completed.

We are fortunate in having, in nearly all schools, conscientious and hard-working teachers. Without them, no amount of modern buildings and good materials would make good schools.

Some of our teachers have homes in the communities where they teach. The majority might move to other towns, larger places, and secure higher salaries. Higher salaries are necessary to keep those good teachers that we have, and to employ replacements for the few who are leaving. Actually, the modest increases that we should be prepared to give will probably not reward the teacher for better professional service, but will help to defray the higher cost of living.

Parents turn over to the teacher the responsibility of formal education. We are expecting our schools to provide more services. We know the effect of broken homes, and the lack of love and care on some of the children who come to us. There are some who feel strongly that public schools should provide opportunity for some phases of religious education. As the parents and the community expect sincerity and conscientiousness from the professional staff, the teachers have a right to expect cooperation and assistance from the homes and the town. Give them your loyalty, encouragement and commendation when they do well.

Again we have had to pour tax dollars into old school buildings to make them safe and usable. The back foundation wall, chimney, and ceiling had to be replaced at the City School last summer. We made minor repairs at the other schools. For several years, you have paid between $800 and $1000 just to keep the old buildings going. No major improvements are made with these expenditures.

One of the most encouraging things that has happened is the joint effort to accumulate money for the new school. It shows what can be done when folks get really interested. The financial record of your success is included elsewhere in the report. Our capital reserve is slowly increasing in amount. At a meeting of special committees and the school board recently, it was generally agreed that we should recommend the figure of $4000 for next year. A special article is written for this purpose. It was also recommended that, for the duration of the national emergency, we should postpone actual building. It is difficult to wait for the benefits of a new school for our boys and girls. However, the attitude that we shall continue to build up our reserve faster by all means available should be viewed with optimism.

Educationally, we have made some improvements. No teacher now has more than four grades—most have three. We are getting the best books and materials available. The majority of our graduates succeed in high school.

"Education is an investment in people. It is people who make a nation great, not resources, not businesses, not scenery, but people who determine the social trends which carry a nation forward."

JOHN W. DAY,
Supt. of School

REPORT OF SCHOOL NURSE

Because school health service is wide spread, few of us have ever seen more of the service than the school nurse driving to and from school. Her car loaded with a variety of things: the bag with hand basin, towels, soap, rubbing alcohol, clinical thermometer, bandage, adhesive tape, sterile gauze, tongue, depressors, safety pins large pieces of cotton cloth for emergency, a supply of D.D. especially approved by the State Department for use in the care of head lice, and an apron for the nurse to wear while she is helping in the home. Also in the car are school scales, measuring rod, files with the health report of each child, dental, immunization and other records. Frequently, there is a supply of first aid materials to be left in schools where it is needed. At times there are cartons of clothing, given by interested persons to the nurse for distribution where it will be needed and appreciated.

In winter weather, the nurse is ready for bad traveling; she carries burlap sacks, a box of sand, a shovel, an ax, tow rope, and car chains. I must note here that it is a good neighbor who always helps me out of road difficulties.

There is a great deal more to school nursing than merely riding from one school to another. There is the duty of finding and correcting pediculosis—finding the reason for "all this scratching." Some skin disturbance is temporary, although there can be signs of some real disease. Deviation from the normal of the eyes, the ears, the posture, the feet and the poor general appearance of the child are carefully noted. There is the frequent inspection of the classrooms. Supervising all children during epidemics requires much time and travel.

The home visit is a most important part of the school health work. The purpose of the visits is to help the mother make better conditions for health. There are many things to teach. In a great many homes, there are no modern conveniences to create easy living methods. The length of time to complete a home visit varies with the object of the visit—half a day, an hour or perhaps a few minutes. Often a little help, advice, and encouragement greatly reduces difficulties. To demonstrate the treatment for elimination of head lice, to help in the treatment of scabies, to teach the care of bedding and personal clothing, to aid in riddance of cooties and other insects—are all among the school nurse's activities. These corrections often require plenty of running water, and much courage on the part of mothers who have to carry, from outdoors, every drop of water for daily living. The need of extra is most discouraging.

While the nurse is in the home, she may talk over such important subjects as better personal hygiene, better daily health habits for children, the proper shoes to buy, the proper clothing for the cold winter mornings, the all-important "good breakfast." Too, there is the "cruel" lunch box to talk about. Often lists of suitable foods are presented the mother for her convenience in providing for a nutritious school lunch.

There are visits for the purpose of getting the home and the school running on schedule, assisting the mother to make the changes necessary when the child goes from home to school for the first time. The school nurse tries to be of the most help to the child who is sick or has a communicable disease. Homes are often visited and mothers instructed in the care of and control of these diseases.

Your school nurse works closely with state and local social and health agencies. She has full cooperation of the N. H. Tuberculosis Association, the State Sight Conservation Program, the Hearing Society, and the Division of Crippled Children's Service. She brings as many of these services to the school community as possible.
